Wisconsin Artists Showcased at DiRenzo & Bomier Law Offices

Law firm's art gallery features new exhibits each quarter and is open to the public

Neenah, Wis., December 17, 2009 – DiRenzo & Bomier, LLC, a leading law firm that has been servicing Northeastern Wisconsin for more than 50 years, announces a new art collection featuring Wisconsin artists is currently on display in the firm's art gallery. Located in the lobby area and open to the public during normal business hours, the art gallery is also available for group meetings and events.

"The art gallery not only brightens things up in our office, but it also serves as a good way to showcase and support the talents of local artists," said Roy Fine, Partner at DiRenzo & Bomier. "Our current collection features a variety of artwork depicting area landmarks, scenic views, and portraits."

One of the featured selections this quarter is "A Meeting at the Fountain" by Betty Proper, a local artist who predominately paints scenes of the Fox Valley and surrounding area. The exhibit also includes the painting "Scrapbook Day" by Lee Mothes, an artist who moved to Wisconsin in 1987 after living on the west coast for many years.

All the art pieces currently on display at DiRenzo & Bomier were provided by Cheryl Dewing of Artwork Unlimited. She has supplied the law firm with artwork for more than two years after learning of its plans to turn the reception area into an art gallery. Every quarter, the art collection is changed and designed to reflect a number of different artistic styles and mediums.

"It is quite unique for a law firm to not only house artwork from local artists in their offices, but to also open its doors to the community and encourage them to come view the collection," said Dewing. "This is a wonderful opportunity for Fox Valley residents to support Wisconsin artists and take advantage of viewing art in an entirely different setting."

In addition, the art gallery can serve as an ideal location for a group event or meeting after business hours. Local art groups, clubs, and organizations are encouraged to contact DiRenzo & Bomier to check on availability.

The DiRenzo & Bomier art gallery is open to the public Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. A new art collection is scheduled to debut in February 2010.
